MR. GEORGE O. GORDON

George Oscar Gordon, a former resident of Appomattox, and retired school teacher, died at his home in Richmond January 11, after an illness of two weeks. He was 86 years old.

Born July 31, 1870, he was the son of the late David Gordon and Rebecca Rice Gordon. He was the husband of Jennie J. Gordon, who died here May 20, 1948.

Mr. Gordon moved to Richmond after the death of his wife. He was formerly a member of Memorial Methodist Church at Appomattox, and at the time of his death was a member of Boulevard Methodist Church in Richmond.

Miss L. Frances Gordon, of Richmnd, a daughter, is the only survivor in the immediate family.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Robinson Funeral Home, conducted by the Rev. Louis Shearer, of Richmond, a former pastor of Memorial Methodist Church here. Organ selections were played by Miss Peggy Godsey. Burial was in the Liberty Cemetery. Active pallbearers were Edwin Fore, Ernest Rogers, Claude Smith, LeRoy Smith, Paul Cawthorn and R. B. Hudgins.

FASHION NOTES

American women, as a group, are the best dressed women in the world. Of course, this is mainly due to the prosperity found in this country, but the good sense and the good taste of American women have had a hand in making this true.

Women in this country, on the whole, want their dollar's worth. Because of this, there are good looking, well-made clothes available in almost all price groups.

Coats, dresses, shoes, lingerie and accessories that are sound fashion and sound investments are seen in stores all over the country.

We are less prone to wear a design that is a fad or "in style" at the moment than the women of the other countries. Right after the second World War, we went overboard for the new look. The exaggerated length of skirts was accepted.

Looking back, the reason for this seems to be that women were so tired of the unattractive short skirts made necessary by shortage of material, they were happy for a complete change. They got it!

However, since that time women have stayed on an even keel. They seem to have completely disregarded that "flat look." After trying it once during the twenties, they have learned a lesson.

Fashion magazines are a big help. They inform women living in small, rural towns of the latest things to be found in the metropolitan cities. If not followed too closely, a good fashion magazine makes a fine guide.

MOVIE BRIEFS

Mickey Rooney was so delighted with Robert Lewin's "The Bold and the Brave," that he asked Lewin if he had any more stories available. Lewin came up with "The City Hall Affair," a comedy about a timid bank clerk in a small town, who is written-in on the reform ticket for mayor against the incumbent, who is a terror. Mickey liked the story and bought it. He plans to star in it for his own productions.

So anxious is Jerry Wald for Richard Widmark as his star of "Kiss Them For Me," that he is waiting until Widmark finisheh his role in "St. Joan," which is being made in England. This is the play that put Widmark and Judy Holiday over on Broadway, you will remember.

NEWS FOR VETERANS

A savings to taxpayers of at least $350,000 a year, with better service to veterans, will result from a new premium billing system introduced by Veterans Administration for its GI insurance operations, VA announced.

VA said the new premium billing system involves the use of punched cards which policyholders will return with their checks in special envelopes supplied by VA for that purpose.

The punched card method is being used in order to adapt billing and accounting procedures to more modern equipment in the interest of better service to policyholders, VA said.

The VA district offices in Denver and St. Paul have been sending the new punched card billings to policyholders for several months and the Philadelphia district office started more recently. All three offices will complete their first year's mailings in approximately one year from the month in which they started.

VA said policyholders who still have the old billing notices should continue to use them until their supply is exhausted. At that time, VA automatically will send them a year's supply of the new notices.

NEWS FROM HOLLYWOOD

Rock Hudson and Dorothy Malone have the starring roles in "Pylon," William Faulkner's story about two men who fall in love with the same girl. They can't decide who should marry her, so they shoot craps to decide the issue.

Ronald Reagan will be back before the cameras in Columbia's nautical melodrama, "Hellcats of the Navy," which is set to roll early in January. Ronnie's wife, former screen actress Nancy Davis, will also be in the film as the love interest.

King of the box office is William Holden—one of the rare times that an actor of his type has won the coveted award. Holden has the knack of submerging his own personality into the role he portrays and for this reason, he is able to play roles of all types. Runners-up to Holden are: John Wayne, James Stewart, Burt Lancaster, Glenn Ford, Martin and Lewis, Gary Cooper, Marilyn Monroe, Kim Novak and Frank Sinatra.

Up to the middle of December, the film, "Giant," had racked up a total of $1,000,000 at the Roxy Theatre in New York City.

Appomattor is a growing town.

"MISS PERFECT TYPE"

Miss Rebecca Richardson, Martinsville high school teacher, designated as Miss Virginia and a runner-up in the 1956 Atlantic City beauty contest for the title of Miss America, was crowned "Miss Perfect Type" at ceremonies opening the annual observation of International Printing Week, January 13 to 19 in Richmond last Saturday. Printing Week celebrates the birthday of Benjamin Franklin, the patron saint of American Printing.

Death Of Mrs. Lewis

As we go to press, we are informed of the death at 1:00 A. M. today of Mrs. G. W. Lewis, of Old Orye, Appomattox.

Funeral arrangements have not been made at this time, but will be announced.

We extend deepest sympathy to the bereaved family.

ABUNDANT WATER NEEDED TO GROW TIMBER

Recent studies reveal that in the mid-South approximately 750,000 gallons of water are required to grow a cord of pine pulpwood. This is equivalent to 30-acre-inches of soil water during the average growing season on average sites which will grow a cord of pulpwood per acre per year. It takes another 30-000 gallons of water to convert this cord of pulpwood into paper at the pulp mill. This water for tree growth and paper making must be stored in the soil and released gradually, therefore, the water holding capacity of the soil influences the timber growth. The depth of the topsoil to the subsoil and the consistence of the subsoil are natural characteristics of the soil which influence the tree growth. Cattle, sheep, and other grazing animals compact the soil to the point that the natural water holding capacity of the soil is greatly reduced and tree growth is limited. Fire, erosion and destructive logging also increase the amount of runoff of rainfall. These poor practices not only damage timber but limit the growth capacity of the soil and cause abnormal fluctuations of stream flow.

1956-57 HUNTING SEASON SEEN SUCCESSFUL

With the advent of January 20, the hunting season officially comes to an end for the most part and Virginia's deer, bear, turkey and respective waterfowl may rest easy until next fall. So far, kill figures indicate that, by and large, with the exception of ducks, the 1956-5 7season has been one of the most satisfactory in Virginia's history. The deer kill is worthy of particular mention, having already risen to an unprecedented high. Even with total state-wide kill figures not yet tallied, reports indicate in excess of eleven thousand deer killed west of the Blue Ridge Mountains in just one week in November.

Thus, hunters and sportsmen all over the Old Dominion might well be optimistic as regards their favorite sport next fall. In the meantime they are retiring their guns and ammunition in favor of rod and reel, in anticipation of the coming spring and perhaps equally

MAPP - FOX

.... Mrs. John Alfriend Mapp

The Capron Methodist Church was the scene of a beautiful wedding Saturday afternoon, December 22, at five o'clock, when Miss Betty England Fox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ellwood Fox, of Capron, became the bride of John Alfriend Mapp, of Virginia Beach.

Rev. David S. Willis, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony in a setting of palms, white chrysanthemums and cathedral candles. Miss Kathryn Burkey, of Appomattox, cousin of the bride, played the traditional wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a wedding gown of glace satin and Alencon lace embroidered with sequins and pearls. Her veil of illusion fell from a satin coronet embroidered in pearls; and she carrired a white prayer book topped with white carnations and satin streamers.

Miss Marilyn Fox, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. William Trent Fox, of Richmond; Mrs. John Ellwood Fox, Jr., of Capron; Mrs. Allen Barbour Richardson, of Hyattsville, Md.; twin sister of the groom, and Mrs. Theon Ambrose Darden, Jr., of Richmond.

All the attendants wore white taffeta gowns with red cummerbunds and white velvet headdresses. They carried white fur muffs with sprigs of red holly.

George White, of Norfolk, was best man. Groomsmen included John Berkley and E. Jeff Robertson, both of Norfolk; and Wayne Douglas Boring, Jr., and John Cole, Jr., both of Charlottesville.

Mrs. George W. Leigh, of Drewryville and Mrs. David H. Bell, of Capron, were mistresses of ceremony.

The mother of the bride wore a gown of mauve brocaded satin and a purple orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore ice-blue slipper satin and a white orchid corsage.

After a northern wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Mapp are residing in Charlottesville.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. W. J. Trent, of Appomattox.

The bride is a graduate of Mary Washington College, Fredericksburg. The groom, son of Mrs. Richard Ousais Mapp, of Virginia Beach and the late Mr. Mapp, graduated from the Virginia Military Institute and is at present studying medicine at the University of Virginia.

GOLDEN GLEAMS

Our life is but a span,
And cruel death is always near,
So frail a thing is man.

NEW VARIETIES ON LIST RECOMMENDED THIS YEAR

Virginia farmers will have a wider choice of some crop varieties recommended for planting in 1957.

Agronomists at VPI, who annually compile a list of what's best by test, say a new wheat, a new soybean and a new oat are recommended this year.

The new oat is Bronco. It is almost as winter-hardy as Forkedeer, yields as well or slightly better, and is considerubly better in straw stiffness or standing ability. It matures a few days later than other recommended varieties, and is similar in disease reaction to Arlington and Atlantic. It is recommended in Piedmont Virginia north of the James River, and in the area west of the Blue Ridge. Only a limited seed supply is available at present.

Now on the wheat list is Coker 47-37, a smooth headed variety, medium tall in height. It is from two to three inches taller than Thorne, and from three to four days earlier in maturity. It is similar in disease reaction to the Atlas wheats. . resistant to leaf rust, moderately resistant to mildew, and susceptible to soil borne mosiac. It has been from one to two pounds per bushel higher in test weight than Atlas, 50 or 66. Like the Atlas wheats it is not winter-hardy and should no be grown outside the coastal plains area.

Brownie Scouts

A Brownie Scout Fly-up Ceremony was held in the cafeteria of the Elementary School on Friday, January 11, 1957.

Those who graduated to the Intermediate Troop included the following: Grey Holland, Mary Yancey Spencer, Linda Shouse, Jean Cole, Katarah Smith, Donna Gull, Lina Trent and Susan Nell O'Brien.

The flag ceremony was given by the Girl Scouts.

Refreshments were served by the Brownies.
